Charlevoix Sentinel.

Established 1880.
WILLARD A. EMMETT, JR.
CHARLEVOIX, MICH. M. 24, 1917

The local option election in Michigan was practically over for this year, and it is possible to sum up the results and draw the lessons. Thirty-five counties, nearly half the counties in the state, have voted on the question and all but two of these have given majorities in favor of prohibition. At the election on the question of adopting the prohibition constitutional amendment, held last April, those counties gave 105,937 votes in favor of the proposition, and 65,457 against it; a majority of 40,480 for prohibition. In the local option election held this year they have cast 80,131 votes against license and 24,020 votes in favor of license. The fact that the proportion of the vote cast was nearly the same in both instances is certainly significant, and shows how fixed the preference of the people are. Michigan is giving a practical illustration of the desirability of the local option method of dealing with the liquor traffic, and its success or failure will be watched with much interest.

Mr. Wellington R. Ford, though a Michiganian, is a democrat of the Sam Randall kind. In an interview with a Detroit Journal reporter last week he said: "I hold the same views I did on the 20th of Jan. last, the day of the governor's reception when they were published in the Journal. Free trade in the United States with a debt of over $1,000,000,000 hanging upon it is simply impossible. I am in favor of a tariff for revenue, with incidental protection in industry. To give all the advantages to certain industries is impolitic and wrong. Each industry should have its proper share of incidental protection. It would be utterly unfair to place Michigan copper, salt wood and lumber on the free list, while the sugar of Louisiana, the steel mills of Pennsylvania, and the wool goods of New England are protected. If one is free all should be free, or all should be protected." And by the way, what is the difference between this position and that of the republican party?

Good news for Grand Rapids. The House has passed Mr. Ford's bill to make Grand Rapids a port of delivery. There was a discussion in the House when the bill came up. Mr. Ford had been out of the hearing room on the subject, but the bill was reached, and he explained to them the merits in his own persuasive way, consequently when it was voted upon it met with no opposition. The passage of the bill will be a good thing for Grand Rapids. Under the law, when goods arrive at a port of entry consigned to a port of delivery, they are immediately forwarded to the latter place in bond, thus saving much valuable time. There will be a Surgeon of Customs appointed in Grand Rapids, whose salary is fixed by the Secretary of the Treasury, but shall not exceed $1,000 a year, whose duty it will be to apply the duties on the goods and see that they are paid.

W. D. Fuller, chairman of the grand jury state central committee, says that "members ought to know that a successful union with the growers of Michigan is impossible when coupled with even a negative endorsement of the national policy of the Cleveland administration. If they do not, the more they open their eyes the better." At this time one or two deleterious organs which have been misrepresenting Michigan growers for obvious reasons, affect to be disinterested. They are disinterested to the Democrats when they did that it must be exceedingly gratifying to those organs to be rebuffed by Mr. Fuller, that union has not been a towering success as a scheme. "Said, but not delivered," is all that union can possibly mean now.

A Chicago chemist makes the startling statement that there is no virus in venereal disease, except where the patients to whom they are applied do not have shining faith, nervousness is sometimes suspected. This is a good old stand-by of former days, tending away under the scrutiny of science. Truly when we will be told that there is no virus in the disease, even the light should be turned on, and that the virus is a fact, and in a dark alley in the case of the virus is to say that the mother-in-law will die in two weeks.

Indiana, formerly was supposed of being the state of a different kind, but in 1917 it was discovered that the sentiment was the property of another man of the same name. The discovery was made by the fact that the Indiana's record of the time was an entirely new one.

William H. Grace, of Brooklyn who is one of the many Democrats who are going to vote their party on account of its free trade policy, says very forcibly in the statement of its position that "the tariff is a tax on the property of the citizen, and is as much a right of property as the right of the citizen to own property and to dispose of it as he pleases." The attitude taken by so many inept and big game politicians Democrats shows a thorough understanding of the tariff and its effect on the people.

One More Crow!

BETTER AND BETTER

Harrison Has 77 Majority in the Electoral College.

WEST VIRGINIA COMES INTO THE REPUBLICAN LINE

Michigan Gives Harrison 22,000 Majority, and Luce 15,000.

A Republican Congress as well as a Republican President.

A Republican State of Ohio Congressmen to Michigan.

The completed returns from all the doubtful States doubly confirm the reports of last week that Harrison and Moore were safely elected.

The following are the majorities in the "doubtful" States:

New York, 1,000.
Indiana, 2,500.
West Virginia, 500.

Connecticut gave 400 majority for Cleveland.

West Virginia broke the back of the solid South, elects a Republican Congress, and also elects three Republican Congressmen.

Harrison's electoral majority will be 77.

Michigan gives Harrison 22,000 majority and Luce 15,000. Three out of five Democratic Congressional districts are recovered.

Belknap, in the 5th, is elected by 2,500. Moore in the 4th, by 2,500. Wheeler, in the 10th, by 2,500.

Catchers' majority in this district will round up fully 5,000. Carry the news to private Harrison.

California gives Harrison 100,000 majority.

In all the Northern States and some of the Southern, the Republicans were very largely victorious over four years ago.

Republicans have reason to be jubilant over the triumphant election of General Harrison, and a cause for great rejoicing is the enormous gain in Congressmen. After a careful survey of the field, and giving the Democrats the benefit of the doubt in all doubtful districts, the Republicans will have the House of Representatives by from 75 to 80 majority.

The Senate also is safe. Luce's majority in this State is 15,000. It is not known, but it will probably exceed 15,000.

Mr. Harrison's majority for Representative will be 115 or over.

The news of Harrison's election was greeted in England with a predominant sentiment of satisfaction. The British press has been full of praise for the new President.

Lord Salisbury, "this great event is a triumph for the cause of civilization and progress."

One of the political commentators has written in the New York Herald Tribune: "The election of Harrison is a triumph for the cause of civilization and progress."

Republicans' United States Senator.

CHARLEVOIX, DEC. 12, 1888.

MAINE

A Breeze of Information of Interest to Readers of the

The firelight was about Monday for the winter.

Geo. A. Wager, of Meigs, Mich., lately purchased the steamer "Doris" of Marshall's sale, for $2,500.

The tug "L. H. Higley" has laid up and has been taken a contract to put quite extensive repairs on her boiler.

The steamer "Annie Lantier" was the last clearance from this port for the season. She took pine lumber from East Jordan.

The schooner "Piercing" arrived Sunday and is stripped. The Charlevoix fleet is now in winter quarters, some the worse for wear.

Capt. Jepson, of the Clara Belle, contemplating going to a race track, but his wife, Mrs. Jepson, is not in the mood to go.

Water Cretcher, of Harbor Springs, was in town Monday, closing a contract for the construction of a steamer for the Port Huron and Harbor Springs ferry route.

The steamer "Annie Lantier" will be 145 feet long and 25 feet beam. The steamer will be planked with oak, but timber will be used principally for her timbers and frame.

Mr. Campbell begins work at once, and will launch her about the 15th of June. Barth is figuring on her hull. She will be propelled by a 25-horse power engine.

Capt. John M. Pelissier, of Grand Rapids, was in town Monday, and is master and owner of the steamer "Florence," formerly of Grand Haven, near Grand Rapids, but now in winter quarters at Kalamazoo.

The captain was here looking over the ground with a view of building a boat here next spring, to run on the Lake or South Sea.

When he left he authorized us to state that he would be here with steamer as early in the spring as possible.

She is a steel boat, 25 feet long, 14 feet beam, and is almost new.

She is driven by a 25-horse power engine, and is speedy.

Capt. Kaddy, of the schooner "Annie Lantier," was in town Monday, and has been here for several seasons now.

He has prepared a number of proposals for the purpose of lifting and repairing the vessel after sufficient ice has formed to afford protection, and hopes to be able to launch her in the spring.

The Milwaukee Belle is the largest of the fleet, and is a very fine vessel for the lumber and cedar trade.

She carries well, and will be a bonanza to Capt. Kaddy in the event that he could to find her.

The low water in the lakes has been a serious obstacle to navigation during the winter season, and an apparent tendency toward a lower level has been observed.

It is believed that the water level will be lower than in the spring.

Washington has been a very busy place, and is a very fine place for the winter.

Read Carefully!

We don't have to get up a Lottery to sell our Goods. We keep Goods that don't require any prize to sell them.

Good Goods sell themselves. I am one merchant that don't believe in selling goods in that way. Some one gets the prize and the balance of the customers pay for it. I believe in selling goods at such prices that all my customers get a prize. I have opened up the finest line of Neck Ties

Neck Scarfs and Silk Handkerchiefs which will prove all I have said. I have also just opened a new invoice of Clothing, something very nobby that I had to have for the ing one and all a Merry Christmas and a

THE SOUTHWEST.

A Letter From Capt. A. G. Aldrich, Detroit.

Seattle, Washington Territory, Jan. 10.

My dear friend,

I will now try and give you a brief history of my trip to the Northwest.

I left St. Ignace Dec. 24th and expected to go to Seattle without any delay, but having to stay over at Marquette about 15 hours and the same at Duluth, I did not leave the latter place until 1 p. m. of the 26th.

As the night soon closed around me, I felt that I was coming to an end for the time being.

We arrived at Rainier, Minn., at 5:30 p. m., where we made comparisons with the train from St. Paul, and changed cars, which showed us on the main line of the Northern Pacific bound for the north-west, corners of the United States. In looking out through the darkness I could realize that the country was primarily prairie, but as I kept going we at last saw the first signs of the discouragingly dark, the darkness, I soon saw the first signs of the Wanted. Notes.

Crows, robins, larks, are back. V. Nash arrived from Chicago Monday night. No parties last week; nearly every one sick with a cold. They will wish themselves back in Florida before March is gone. The social at the Town Hall on Wednesday evening netted the Ladies Aid Society $6. Not much ice to be seen this morning. Boats could run up the bay with very little trouble. N. A. Shore has traded his farm for the house owned by Frank Pearl, in this village, and moved in. Mrs. Whitman went to Boyne City Wednesday, called there by the illness of her daughter, Mrs. Bellin.

Notes from the Bay.

All of our citizens who put up ice were less last week than the last. Ascents for the Bayne Falls postoffice are thicker than Fall-blown.

Henry & Griffith dissolved parting last week, and Mr. Griffith continues the business. One of Mr. Hart's ice is laid up with a bruised foot received last Thursday in a runaway.

The field will shut down a day or two last week because the knoll snow tramped up its flanks.

The Haystack averages a thirty thousand out of cedar shingles these days, which is pretty good for the Haystack.

The Clement lumber camp partly broke up last week and shipped a carload of lumber and horses away Friday morning.

The mills are stocked up with a fine lot of logs. A look over Wm. Mead's log yard will convince a man that this country contains some fine timber.

Notes from the Bay.

A straw stack burned up on the premises of Wm. Gray Saturday. Wagons commenced running last Saturday. A month earlier than last year.

Henry Solter returned from Grand Haven last Friday, after six months absence. If the crows are a harbinger of spring they have been croaking for several days past.

Lake Michigan is clear of ice, the latter end of the month, Middle Village and the Beavers.

The Burgess shingle mill was shut down a few days the past week making repairs to the arch.

C. H. Whitford visited seventeen states and territories while on his recent tour, and yet he thinks Charlevoix county compares favorably with any place he saw.

Last Sunday was St. Patrick's Day. The next holiday will be the first of April, and from present indications there will be a great many April fools that day. Election day, you see.

George Sundry had a narrow escape one day last week, while loading from Petoskey with a load of groceries. He drove out on the day intending to come home on the ice, but missed the boat and dropped into one of the holes left by the ice-crests. He showed and struck the horse at the same time, and they got out with no further damage than wetting the whole team.

Notes from the Bay.

Large force of workmen engaged at the Washburn shipyard. H. D. Wood goes again as engineer of the steamer Camanche.

The Northern Michigan Line of steamers left Friday at Chicago. Capt. Wm. Leamon has moved to Charlevoix, and is at work in Washburn's shipyard.

Skipper George Madison will sail the schooner Florence M. Smith again this season.

The steamer Sanford commenced running Saturday from St. Ignace to Charlevoix and Marquette. It is reported on pretty good authority that Capt. A. G. Albright will sail the steamer Albright this season.

The Flanagan Weaver schooner is well on her way to Charlevoix. My place before that time. There is no water in sight between Mackinac and Beaver Island.

The Northport correspondent of the "Michigan Freeman" writes that the ice has gone out of Grand Haven Bay.

The Point Henry Light Station will be open April first, with "Tip" Muter at the helm. My place before that time. There is no water in sight between Mackinac and Beaver Island.

Capt. Willard says the owners of the popular City of Grand Haven have no reason to complain of last season's business, and that they will make the same time next season.

A Socio-telegram says the ice in the lake is twenty-eight inches thick as in last year—and in Mud Lake it is three feet thick and it is thought no-ice will run out open before May 1st.

A dark, high-contrast, black and white photograph of a landscape, possibly a field or forest, with a bright, overexposed area in the center. The image is heavily degraded with numerous scratches, dust specks, and vertical streaks, suggesting it is a scan of an old film or a damaged print. The central bright area appears to be a path or a clearing, while the surrounding dark areas are indistinct shapes of trees or foliage. The overall texture is grainy and noisy.

Charlevoix Sentinel.

Established 1890.

WILLARD A. SMITH, Editor.

CHARLEVOIX, APR. 24, 1899.

An Interesting Southern Letter From Prof. J. H. Allen.

Charlevoix, Mich., April 17, 1899.

In compliance with the request of numerous citizens of Charlevoix, to give an uncolored description of this portion of the country, I will now endeavor to do so, and do it fairly, without injustice or exaggeration.

Since my arrival here I have devoted much of my time to travel and investigation of the condition of the agricultural classes. I find that throughout Alabama, Georgia, and the greater part of Tennessee, there is a very general want of that energy that is characteristic of the enterprising Northern farmer, most of the plowing being done by a single mule or ox, the plow being of the shovel-blade sort, about 7 or 8 inches long, 4 or 5 inches wide—about the size of a single cultivator tooth of our Northern farmers. With this they plow about 3 or 4 inches deep, but little more than "scratching" the ground.

The land is cropped year after year until well nigh exhausted, and cotton being the principal product of this section, is in a great measure pledged to the dealer in fertilizers before raised, to secure the payment for guano and other fertilizing material; and most of the farmers live in a manner that entitles them to the name of "peasants." The soil is very fertile, and there is a very great want of both money and labor. The latter, perhaps, arising from a want of knowledge of more skillful farming.

These same farmers are, however, very generous to Northern people, and desirous of Northern immigration, as nearly all say to me. "We want you Northern people to come here and live with us, and teach us how to farm, then we can get along right smart." We can do a heap better when you teach us how."

It would be injustice to say that all are in the unfortunate condition I have described, for along the river, as they are called here, are many excellent farms, and in Cobb county, through which I traveled a few days since, I saw some of the most beautiful fruit farms that I ever saw in any State, and the price is very reasonable compared with Northern farms, and a Northern farmer would do well on such farms, as a few Northern people settled here abundantly prove. I could not recommend any Northern person to come here seeking labor, as the negro element work for such low wages that no white man can afford to compete with them, besides, his position in society, working with the negro, would be no better. The strength of the Southern aristocracy is on the decline, and the "cracker" element is fast rising in intelligence, and they earnestly desire the colonization of the negroes, and the substitution of honest white labor.

Skilled mechanics in many places, can do very well, as they have no competition with the negro, and competent teachers are in very good demand. But there is quite a distinct class of strangers, as many persons from the North, who could not pass examinations before our school boards, have come here and opened private schools, very much to the detriment of the interests of education. A free school chartered by the Legislature of Georgia, has been opened in this place, with a separate department for the negroes, but under one management.

The management or supervision of this school was, unexpectedly on my part, offered to me. At first I declined, but being earnestly solicited to open and conduct it on the plan of our Northern graded schools, I at last consented to do so for three months only. They immediately elected me Examining Commissioner for the examination of teachers, and, of course, there were many applicants for the five departments. I am apprehensive that some smiling faces would not smile so pleasantly should they meet me again.

One thing in justice to the people of this place. I never lived in a place where the Sabbath is so strictly observed. Profanity has no existence, or very little, at least, and among the pupils I have not heard one profane word. In their religious views they are very sensitive, as there are Northern and Southern Methodists, mostly the latter, of course. A short time since a revival meeting was held by Northern and Southern Methodists and Presbyterians, also our Baptist minister. It was agreed that they should pool their labors on condition that neither should say anything upon doctrinal points, and the work went on very well for five weeks, when they came to declare dividends, the Northern division insisted upon the converts accepting the resolutions of their respective churches, reporting the duties of Christians in loyalty to the government, and then the mischief was to begin. The Baptist, observing the same, merely suggested that their converts should be sincere followers of the Saviour, obtaining by far the largest share. This united the others against him, but while the political divisions were wrangling over their pet ideas, their converts had strayed away among the goats, and the political persons found themselves utterly unable to again collect their scattered sheep, they (the sheep) having concluded that it was impossible to tell, by his moral features, the person from the politician, and that the religion of the African or Caucasian was as good as that of their late pastors.

In regard to healthfulness here. On the high lands I think, with proper care, a person can enjoy excellent health, but on the low lands bordering on the Gulf it is no place for a Northern person. It is quite warm here now, hotter than the average July weather in Charlevoix, but our health is excellent. I shall remain here until July.

Very truly yours,

J. H. ALLEN.

Current Marine Notes.

Shipping is lively.

The steamship Root is loading at Nichols' mill.

Ed. Guard goes as engineer of the tug Minnie Warren this season.

The tug Minnie Warren is being fitted out, and Capt. John Mason will command her this season.

The steamer Clara Belle is out and after a few local trips will take her route between Boyne City and Harbor Springs.

Capt. James Gibson, well known here, will this season again command the large iron steamer Lackawanna. In the fall he comes out in another new boat of the same line.

The schooner Mocking Bird was labeled and hauled last season on the suit of Capt. John Penfold, for a low bill of $150. Capt. Penfold and his attorney are here from Frankfort taking evidence.

The propeller City of Charlevoix arrived from Chicago Thursday evening, and got back from the straits Saturday evening. She remained until Sunday evening, loading with cedar for Downer.

The following bills of sale have been entered at Chicago: Schooner John Rader, to C. A. Barker, $2,500; schooner W. H. Hawkins, to Robert Mitchell, $900; schooner Supply, to W. J. Anderson and Ole Olson, $540.

The new Flanigan-Weaver schooner was launched at Campbell's yard last week. She is a trim and roomy little vessel, and is named the Winnie Weaver. She leaves tomorrow for Norwood, where she loads with apples for Escanaba.

Some time ago Tom Palmer was assigned to the command of the tug Rawson, at the Soc. Last week the Rawson was bought by a brother of Capt. James E. Carter, and Jim has been put in command of the boat. Chas. Gagnon goes as engineer.

On Thursday of last week the schooner Moonlight, ore laden from Escanaba to Cleveland, ran hard aground at the head of the Beavers. Her captain sent two men here in a small boat, and they telegraphed to Manistee for the tug Williams. The tug Swain, of Cheboygan, got there first, however, and released her. She leaked some.

A New Presbyterian church at Weldon, on Bear Lake Charlevoix Co., was organized on Tuesday evening, the 16th inst., by a Commission from Potoskey Presbytery, consisting of Rev. Messrs. Stout and Gibson, and other J. J. Wank, of Potoskey, accompanied by Rev. J. Hedgath, of Boyne Falls. At the close of a regular preaching service, ten communicants came forward for examination, and after giving satisfactory evidence of experimental piety, they stood up together and witnessed a good confession and entered into covenant with God and one another to walk in love and purity. Seven received Christian baptism. W. B. Jenkins was elected a ruling elder, and was duly set apart to his office by prayer and the laying on of hands. A large and attentive audience witnessed the impressive services with the deepest interest. This young and hopeful church is the first fruit of the labors of W. Smith, a fluent speaker of Potoskey Presbytery, now in charge of that field.

The Death and Burial of J. Reed Emery.

The death of J. Reed Emery was announced in last week's issue of this paper, but no particulars could be given.

Mr. Emery's health was failing so rapidly in Louisiana, that it was thought best to remove him to his home as soon as possible, and accompanied by his wife and children and

Mr. Barnard Mills, a partner of Mr.

Emery's brother-in-law, he started for the north. The journey proved too much for him, and when within five hours of Chicago he complained of being tired, and, reclining in his berth, he apparently fell asleep.

It was the sleep that knows no waking.

The remains arrived here Thursday night on the steamer Potoskey, and on Saturday the funeral occurred, which event was one of the most notable of the character ever held here.

The funeral was strictly Masonic,

the solemn services of the ritual being rendered at church and grave by Charlevoix Lodge No. 222, Rev. Bro.

McCarthy, Chaplain, preaching a most eloquent sermon.

About twenty members of East Jordan

Lodge attended in a body. Six

Knights Templar, of the

No. 35, Knights Templar, of Manistee, were present, and with 24 swords as escort of honor.

The procession from the church to the cemetery was headed by the Charlevoix Cornet Band. There were nearly 100 Masons of all ranks in the colums, and a long line of carriages followed.

J. Reed Emery was but 33 years of age at the time of his death. He had been for upwards of eight years, one of the leading business men of Charlevoix, and had many friends, whose

CHARLEVOIX COUNTY FAIR.

It is expected to be a success. The grounds are greatly improved.

The Charlevoix County Fair will be held this year at East Jordan, Sept. 11, 12 and 13 and is open to competition in Charlevoix and adjoining counties. The premium list is now ready for distribution. A number of copies were sent to this office, and our readers who call can be supplied as long as they last. The premium list is very liberal and is arranged with the view of bringing out the largest possible exhibit in all departments.

The grounds have been greatly improved and are now among the finest equipped fair grounds in Northern Michigan. A new floor has been laid in the main hall, new box stalls for horses, additional cattle stalls with covered pens for sheep and swine are among the improvements for the exhibitor of 1899. The board of directors are making every effort with the assured assistance of the many exhibitors will secure an exceptionally successful fair.

The present prospect of a large crowd of home workers and prospectors from the southern part of the state at the time of the fair, gives the people of Northern Michigan added opportunity to display the products of their country than ever before offered. The planing of the dates earlier in the month this year will tend to get better weather. The usual freight and passenger rates have been made with the most liberal consideration. Exhibitors will be carried free, while passengers will be carried at excursion rates.

The live stock show promises to be one of the most successful of the fair. It is desirable that you make every effort to exhibit your stock at the opening of the fair, so that the management can increase their capacity. This can be easily done by writing the secretary, J. E. Stone, at East Jordan.

We need not remind our readers that the county fair is an institution of the people, that the benefits derived from the annual fair are almost immeasurable, and every person who goes to the fair and pays their admission fee, contributes something toward maintaining important industrial and agricultural work, to say nothing of the educational work and influence of the fair itself, a consideration which alone should prompt every person to give it their hearty support. The fair is a grand exposition of the various products of the soil, the products of the stock, the products of the hand and of the mind, and it is well worth the small amount it costs to see it. Old and young, male and female, can here learn lessons that cannot be learned in any other way. It is a study of the best specimens of art for the decoration of our homes, of the various specimens of grain, vegetables and of live stock, the vast show of agricultural and industrial implements and other devices for increasing labor and cost of production, will give the attentive visitor invaluable ideas and suggestions, and he or she will return to their home with broader ideas, quickened appreciation and better ideas for the more successful management of affairs.

Over the state or district fair takes the lead in extent of variety and general character, but the county fair has its particular field of usefulness. The county fair generally can increase its usefulness greatly by placing their dates of exhibit ahead of the state or district fair by retaining their finest exhibits of the products of the county and send them to the State or district fair.

We believe in the fair and desire to see them all successful and prosperous and extending an influence for good to all especially in stimulating farmers to bettering. As our aim is to be an agricultural county, we must and our efforts in that direction, and thus contribute to the welfare and prosperity of our country.

The band plays for the social Friday night.

Don't forget the hand concert on New Year's eve.

Daniel Stafford is putting up a new mill for a Mr. Hallen, east of Esopport this week.

The Ladies Aid Society give sandwiches and coffee Friday night at the hall, all for ten cents.

No one came out to the church here in out would last Tuesday. Consequently no wood at the church.

The stage goes with sleighs one day and a wagon the next. Pretty hard traveling either way. Oh, for a railroad!

Wm. Harris went to Clarion Monday where the committee met to look up the desirability of putting a bridge across Bear Lake.

Form a company; get the right way from Traverse City to Charlevoix via Antrim, and it means railroad, if properly worked up.

New slated cloth blackboards have been put in at the schoolhouse. A much needed article is a good thing.

But this is not all. In the township of Eveline a house was burned and it is supposed that its owner, Louis Napoleon Melosh, and his son, Louis, were the cause of the fire.

Married. At the residence of the bride's parents, Wednesday, at Charlevoix, Dr. Thad Lewis and Miss Laura Pearl. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis were married by the Rev. J. H. Lewis.

Parties of the young folks, who after spending a very pleasant evening left, wishing the young couple many happy returns of the day.

Married News.

These Shaptons has just completed a new home on his farm.

Homer Clark is at Newberry and reports a scarcity of wood.

It looks as if there would be three weddings at Barnard in the near future.

We read that Jacob had twelve sons and we hear that Jacob had twelve sons.

The singing class of Prof. Cox at Barnard and Illick's are progressing finely.

The school at Barnard is giving excellent satisfaction with Miss Adams as teacher.

There will be an exhibition at Illick's school house on Saturday evening, Dec. 14.

The Barnard Grange is doing some fine work. They received their winter supplies on the last week.

There will be a Christmas tree at J. M. Melosh's of the G. R. & L. Barnard on Christmas Eve. An interesting program is being prepared.

Exchange from Hayes.

Horatio Murray has removed his stock of groceries from Carson to his residence.

Mrs. Ella Sheldon, of Antrim, spent a few days with her parents, J. S. Webster's, last week.

Henry Fickenger, of Cass Co., came to Hayes on Tuesday with the intent of buying a small improvement farm near town.

Rev. Mr. Moody, U. S. minister at Potosky, will preach at the Murray school house if the people in that vicinity desire it.

Judge Cass, D. Long, of the Supreme Court accompanied by his family, was visiting his sister, Mrs. Peter Kane, one day last week.

It seems to be no sin in many of our Hayesites' eyes to skin the town in various ways, especially in reference to highway matters. We have no road districts and it costs the user $45 to get the road made and the owners have them taken up in the fall. And the number of jobs that have not been half done and two prices charged for them is legion. If you listen to that this one or that one says, "We have not had justice done in highway matters and it is time some body came down and put the whole thing straight."

Current Marine Notes.

The harbor tug is laid up.

Capt. T. D. Smith is corresponding with parties in the Green Bay, for larger boiler and engine for the tug.

The Friar has laid up at Harpor Springs, and the Star at Jordan. The Clara Belle will run the old year out and the new year in, weather permitting.

Come to haul out the steamer Cummings last week but were found to be so filled with ice that she could not be re-caulked. Consequently, her owners abandoned the idea of running any more this fall, and she will remain on the ways until spring.

The steamer Oulima came from Northport Saturday evening with the crew of the Cummings. She will come again this week to bring Capt. Emory's family and house hold effects. The Oulima will continue to run as long as there is no ice to stop her, and will come here when freight or passenger service is required.

CHICAGO, DEC. 23, 1923.

On Nov. 17, Mr. Cleveland had been elected to the presidency of the United States. It was a surprise to many, but it was a fact. The election was a triumph for the Republican party, and a defeat for the Democratic party. The country was in a state of excitement, and the people were looking forward to the inauguration of Mr. Cleveland.

The inauguration of Mr. Cleveland was a great event. It was a day of national rejoicing, and the people were proud to have a Cleveland in the White House. The ceremony was held in the Capitol, and it was a grand affair. The President-elect was sworn in, and he gave a speech to the people.

The growth of the United States has been rapid. It has become a great power, and it is looking forward to the future. The people are proud of their country, and they are proud of their President-elect. The future is bright, and the people are looking forward to the day when Mr. Cleveland will be inaugurated.

The Election Law.

We print the following letter from Supervisor Chew of Hayes township, with pleasure, because it opens up a question of interest to all Supervisors and other officers having control of local elections.

Supervisor, Hayes township, Mich. Dear Sir: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 10th inst. in relation to the election law. I have read it with interest and have no objection to its publication. I have no objection to its publication. I have no objection to its publication.

In reply to the above question of Mr. Chew, we have the following remarks to make. The Attorney General has rendered an opinion in which he holds that the law does, and was intended to apply to township elections. What is called the "election law" is a general election, and there are no constitutional amendments, or regulations of the university, or judges of the supreme court to vote for. Against the opinion of Representative Harris, we put the opinion of Representative Wadsworth, who says in his letter to Mr. Harris, as it certainly was intended by the legislature to cover township and village elections and the argument was made on the floor, that if the secret ballot is a good thing, in general, it would be equally good in local elections. While this is true and the Attorney General has delivered an opinion sustaining application of the law to all elections held in this state, there is small doubt that the law will be held unconstitutional, though of course none but the Almighty can so interfere with what is called the law of the land. Certainly if the law is held unconstitutional, it will be held unconstitutional, though of course none but the Almighty can so interfere with what is called the law of the land.

East Jordan Enterprise. E. N. Clink returned from Eastport Monday night late, the charge against him having been quashed through irregularity in the papers, and Clink did not wait for new ones to be made out—because it is better to have the charge against him quashed than to have it stand. The charge against him was that he had been guilty of the crime of larceny, and he was released from the jail Monday night. ## Deaths of Frank and Frances.

Frank Jones, of this village, was one of the early cases of influenza reported in this village. He had been quite sick with the complaint at his brother's house for some time, but a cold caught was not taken, and he died of pneumonia. The funeral occurred this morning at 10 o'clock, Rev. Mr. Hayes conducting the services. The Association of Marine Engineers, of which deceased was a member, attended in a body.

Manitowish Herald: When the C. W. M. railroad passes through this country on its way to the Straits, both Spencer Creek and Central Lake are bound to suffer from their splendid situation and natural advantages, to become towns of no mean importance.

The Harbor Springs boat race boys made the run from the engine house to the Keweenaw hotel, one day in twenty, and had a stream of water playing on the roof in one minute and 11 seconds. The boat and the driver company made the run, raised the station ladder to the fourth story, and had a man on top at the number 35 minutes and 3 seconds.

THE INDIAN RIVER TRIP.

K. Carpenter writes up a Southern Vacation Cruise.

From Chicago, Feb. 1, 1896.

Having just returned from a trip down Indian River, I thought perhaps your readers might be interested in hearing something about that famous region.

Comic Enery, Morris Stockman, Dan Way and myself made the trip in the "Lake C." She is a boat 100 feet long; so you may know from of us, with our baggage and provisions, did not have any space room. We had a tent which we put over the cockpit nights, making it quite comfortable.

We sailed from here January 21, with a good sailing breeze, which left us when we got to the lake, seven miles from here. This inlet (Mosquito Inlet) is dangerous to cross when the tide is going out, unless with a stiff breeze. A Mr. Morris, who had traveled thousands of miles in a canoe, in undertaking to cross soon after we made the trip, was carried out into the breakers by the tide and drowned.

From the inlet up the Hillsboro river we had light wind until night. We anchored for the night about twenty miles from home near what is called Tule Mound, said to be the highest point on this coast for a long distance. It is a large pile of oyster shells, from the summit of which is spread out a grand panorama.

Soon after starting next morning, with a heavy wind, we ran upon a mud bank. We undertook to pole out, but it was no go; so we had to get overboard and (as they term it here,) "whitened" our boat. We then passed out of the Hillsboro river into the Lagoon, quite a large body of water, where we had to drop the peak of our sail, and even then had all we could manage.

We arrived at what is called the "shoalway," a canal cut from the lagoon to the Indian River, about a quarter of a mile long. Here we tied up for dinner, and then passed into Indian River. The north portion of Indian River is quite a body of water, probably twice the width of Lake Lake, but generally shallow. Here we refueled our sail still more.

We arrived at Tinsville at 2 o'clock. This is the terminus of a branch of the T. & N. W. R. R. It is rather a dilapidated looking town.

But there seems to be considerable business done here. Nearly all the travel and freight passing to and from the Indian River country is transferred here. Steamboats do most of the coasting on the river. We passed Rockledge at 5 o'clock. This is the prettiest place I have seen in the State. The shore here is high and bold; the buildings as a rule are neat, and the grounds fine. It is about three miles from here to the headwaters of the St. Johns river, where it empties for the night about three miles below here. The next morning we coasted along down the shore of Morris Island.

This island lies between Indian and Indian rivers, and with its orange and lemon groves, banana and pineapple plantations, palaces and live oaks, with their trailing moss, looks very fine. During the day we called at the mouth of the west shore of the river, called Eden. The land here is high and slopes toward the water, and resembles the east shore of Pine Lake with the addition of tropical scenery. There are large pineapple plantations here. A Captain Richards has a plantation here of forty acres containing 75,000 plants.

Here we got pineapple to bring home. We anchored for the night about eighteen miles below Indian River inlet. The next morning, while passing Gilbert's Bay, (where there is a house of refuge for victims of shipwreck,) we saw three spray from the ocean flying high above the bay. We concluded there was some fun, and decided to land, and we were well repaid for our trouble. We found here a ledge of jagged rocks from ten to fifteen feet high, against which the breakers were rolling, throwing the spray high in the air. It was a sight to behold, and we were very fortunate in securing some very good photographs of the view of it.

After leaving here we entered what is called the Narrows, a very narrow and crooked channel between the mangrove islands, and with some sailing and much poling got through into more open water, and soon arrived at Jupiter Inlet. The end of our journey by boat.

Here is a lighthouse and signal station. All the large steamships passing near run close in here. There is a large river steamboat anchored here, and they use it for a hotel. The next morning after our arrival here we left our boat in charge of Morris and took the cars for Lake Worth, eight miles distant. We returned the same day, getting off the cars about four miles out and walking back on the beach, staying at the "Star" hotel, and taking some views.

We made sail for home the same evening, running in to the Narrows, where we anchored for the night. The next day we called at a place owned by a queer old fellow called "Quackquack Joe." It is a fine place. He has one hundred and twenty acres, and a banana plantation. He gave us ten fine bunches of bananas. He told Benjie he would give him some coconuts if he would climb the tree and get them. Benjie had no idea Benjie was a climber.

from Cimbeville, but he suggested the old fellow by taking a butcher knife in his teeth, going up the tree and eating off four coconuts. We took some views of the coconut trees.

The next day we stopped at Indian River inlet, and saw a large school of sharks swimming in the breakers close in shore. Some of them, I think, were ten or twelve feet long. We tried fishing for them, but a piece of pork tied on a shark hook did not seem to have any charms for them. This is quite a fishing place. They get their fishing on the night; they use gill nets, and keep them out of the water during the day.

We were surprised to find a man fishing here by the name of Gallagher from Beaver Island. He was as much surprised to see us as we were to see him. They seemed to be catching plenty of fish. They packed them in ice and ship them to points further north. They get live from Jacksonville, where it is manufactured. Fishing here is said to be very profitable.

After starting again, and while out along with a stiff breeze, we ran off of something that raised the howl of our boat partially out of water, and made things jingle. At first we supposed it was a snag or log, but as we sped by we got a glimpse of some large creature that was getting down into the water as fast as possible. We were told it was probably a manatee, or sea-cow. They are quite common in this vicinity, and often grow to a weight of sixteen hundred pounds.

The next morning upon waking up we found the wind blowing heavily from the north, and the water was so rough that we were unable to make the trip in about 9:30 days. The distance there and return is about 455 miles. We laid by about 250 days, and made numerous stops. I do not like the Indian River country as well as I do the Highlands. The landmarks are not as wide, nor as rich, as rich, as the river. They can raise tropical fruits down there that we cannot, but they are too far south to raise oranges successfully. They raise considerable "cane" crop, but the Northern markets, principally string beans and egg plants.

We enjoyed our trip very much, but were glad to get home. We cleared out in sailing, everything we came across while gone, so we are pretty proud of the little boat.

RECAPITULATION. The work of the boat being on the T. & N. W. R. R. is being pushed at the rate of three quarters of a mile per day, about 22 miles of the track has been put down on this end of the line.

Monitors of Captains J. C. Bonesteel, of the Petoskey, has been appointed by the Governor as one of the State Board of Fisheries for the Orchard Lake Military Academy. A very proper appointment.

While coasting on Lake street in Petoskey, on the 6th, a fish, about eight inches long, was taken from the lake. It was a specimen of the species, Salmo gairdneri, and was very fine. It was taken by a boy named John, who lives on Lake street. The fish was about eight inches long, and was very fine.

The mother of Harry Gill, the famous young man killed in a drunk car now at Petoskey last summer, has died the proprietor of the resort where the liquor was drunk, or at least the damages. Gill was a minor, and with others was intoxicated at the time of the killing. The Women's Christian Temperance Union of Petoskey are aiding Mrs. Gill in this action.

Chelogan has been imposed upon. A well known couple were recently married in one of the local churches, and at the reception which followed the gifts were numerous and costly. It is supposed that the couple were actually married on the spot last Sunday.

Dr. Warne, of East Jordan, takes his place in the drug store during his absence.

Grand Traverse Herald: The Charlevoix SENTINEL is publishing an interesting and valuable series of marine notes of the early days of that town, and the inland lakes having their outlet in Charlevoix.

W. H. Downer returned from Chicago Monday, via the Northern peninsula, where he remained two weeks. He leaves this week for Bois Blanc Island to load a vessel after which he will return here for the summer.

The D. C. & E. R. Co. is nothing more nor less than an incorporation of the Charlevoix SENTINEL. Well down this way we discovered a long while ago that some of the leading spirits in that enterprise would be watching—Bellevue Drive.

Mr. Nelson White, formerly of this place, has been visiting among friends here the past few days. He came over from Milwaukee to bring his sick mother to her home at Manicouan. He returns to Milwaukee this week, where he has a situation in a job printing office.

Mason & Berdon's big opening occurs today and every day this week.

This enterprising firm of young ladies have demonstrated a marked ability in the art of pleasing the public, and with the new stock recently received they are rousing fresh laurels. In the line of fine dry goods, curtains, rugs and carpets they are well up in the front row or seats.

Nichols, Lewis & Bates have their factory annex ready for operation, and will soon be in shape to turn out all kinds of factory work. They have a jig saw, moulding machine, re-saw, pine planes and turning lathes. They have also completed their dry kiln, which is capable of thoroughly seasoning 10,000 feet of lumber a day. They are making considerable improvement to their premises, in the way of fencing, etc.

Peterson & Sons. The Charlevoix SENTINEL opened up very property upon the D. C. & E. combine which has left so many poor men out in the cold for work done on the alleged railroad, to say nothing of contractor Rock, whereupon Mr. Hampton assumes to rebuke the SENTINEL. The SENTINEL replies vigorously and announces that if the members of the combine do not exercise more discretion he will "air the whole combine."

The post office committee of the house of representatives has reported favorably the bill providing for the erection of postoffice buildings in all cities where the gross receipts for each year of the last two years have been at least $2,000, the cost of the building to be determined by the receipts. Under the provisions of this bill Charlevoix will be entitled to a building. It is said, on good authority, that the bill is quite certain to ultimately be passed as it has the approval of the postoffice department.

Dr. Spincy, of Detroit, and well known in Charlevoix, lectured in Charlevoix recently, his subject being immortality. He told his audience about the immortality of the soul, and his friends who returned to America after having been safe in heaven for some time. The Argus says: "Dr. Spincy paid the highest tribute to Jesus Christ," which certainly doesn't look bad for the doctor. The Argus also says: "The Argus man is a great joker—when a scientific, educated, intelligent man like Dr. Spincy testifies to having received proofs of immortality, it's not to be scoffed at."

A. T. Washburne's New Store. A person entering the magnificent store of A. T. Washburne in the green block, will find no remaining evidences of the disaster of that winter morning when the fine building was devastated by fierce flames.

But a transformation is indeed apparent to those who witnessed the exciting event. The visitor is greeted with a combination of taste, system, and elegance, seldom found in a building of this size.

Mr. Washburne as sole proprietor of the late co-partnership establishment, occupied the rebuilt apartment last Wednesday, or at least, that was about the first day it was seen in its completeness. Several improvements are made in the store, the most noticeable being the lowering of the front. The interior embellishment is a great improvement over the former store, and many ideas of convenience serve to beautify. Although Mr. Washburne "goes it alone," he retains an alliance with the "mother-house" of Mr. Goss, by which he reaps the benefits of the latter's heavy purchases in the large cities—an advantage indeed.

Mr. Washburne's stock is already large, but will be enlarged. His carpet display is elegant, embracing almost every texture and shade.

As a dry goods emporium, the store of A. T. Washburne is well worthy of a visit.

The Papers served. Deputy U. S. Marshal Cooper on Monday served a U. S. Court summons upon the D. C. & E. R. Co., in the person of its Secretary, to appear before the said Court on the 6th day of May, and answer to a suit entered by Thomas Rock for $10,000 damages.

The summons also extends to the C. & W. M. and the T. & A. A. Co., Rock making affidavit that he has reason to believe the franchises of the D. C. & E. R. Co. have passed to either one of the two last named roads.

The C. & W. M. Engineers. Engineer Hodges with his engineer corps, is in the vicinity of East Jordan looking out a route by which the C. & W. M. northern extension can reach that place.

From the fact that the already surveyed line reaches to within six miles of the head of the Arm, there is not a reasonable doubt that when the road is built it will touch there. This we never doubted. But it will not traverse the hills to the eastward of East Jordan.

Startings from Hayes. Mrs. Leo Marone is teaching school in the Horton district.

A. S. Norman will move into his new residence this week.

Superior Gray commenced the assessment of the town on Monday.

Artie Whitman, of Newwood, has been visiting at H. S. Newson's the past week.

Joseph Lewis was transferred from school dist. No. 3 to No. 4, by the board of school inspectors.

Mrs. Maggie Wolpert, was elected chairman of the board of school inspectors, at a session of the board last Friday.

Mr. Haynes has a law suit on hand as it is reported. The Pine Lake Iron Co. paid their tax in this town under protest and sued the town in the circuit court.

An Americanized Celestial.

Gnie Mon Lee, the happy little Chinaman who runs the laundry on Bridge street, is one of the very few of his nation who become Americanized.

Gnie is 21 years of age. He came from China in 1883, locating in Chicago, where his step-father had preceded him. He worked hard in a laundry, accumulating about $1,000, but the step-father gained possession of the money, and skipped for the Celestial empire, leaving poor Gnie penniless.

During his sojourn in Chicago he became a member of a mission Sunday school, of which J. S. Smithson was superintendent. He was converted and joined the Methodist church, and has since been a consistent Christian. On his conversion he cut off his queue, adopted American dress, and American manners.

He is a regular attendant upon church services, and participates in the prayer meetings with earnestness. He is fully Americanized, although not yet a citizen, but proposes to be.

The only pagan characteristics he possesses is a somewhat broken speech and the Chinese habit of sprinkling shirt-bosoms with his mouth.

But Gnie is thoroughly honest, neat, and industrious, and certainly worthy of confidence and patronage.

Old Friends Anniversary.

On Saturday evening last, Round Lake Lodge, of this place celebrated the 71st anniversary of the order of Odd Fellowship, by a gathering at their hall. A musical and literary program, and an address by F. W. Hayne was the order of the evening, and a repast was served. At the close of the program, the floor was cleared and a couple of hours of dancing indulged in. All speak of the event as a most enjoyable one.

Master Lewis Wilkinson is recovering from a severe burn received by falling into a pan of boiling sap.

There will be an oyster supper in the town hall Thursday night May 1st for the benefit of the Catholic church.

A. M. Hartwell has moved E. B. Marshall's bees up to his place to run on shares, as Mr. Marshall is afraid of their lifting hives.

Geo. Smith has vacated the Congregational parsonage and moved into the J. M. Wilkinson house. We understand Rev. W. M. Wilson will occupy the parsonage in a short time.

Win. Packett will have an auction sale Saturday, May 3rd, for the disposal of his personal property. He has rented his farm to Geo. Fuller, and intends to return to Lancaster, Ohio. Mr. Packett will be missed in this vicinity, both as a neighbor and a first class carpenter.

Notwood Notes.

Amos Miller went to Chicago Saturday.

The Sardinia loaded with lumber Monday.

E. W. Conlter went to Traverse City Tuesday.

The Lawrence took 300 bushels of potatoes for tobyes & Nash.

Thos. Foreman, of the Pine Lake Lumber Co. was in town Monday.

Mr. Hutchins and family of East Jordan, were over visiting Sunday.

Arthur Zipp, employed by the Pine Lake Lumber Co. is here tallying lumber.

A. B. Meach is at Charlevoix this week tallying a cargo of lumber for Nichols, Lewis & Bates.

Park McIntyre has bought the school house wood shed and will convert it into a tenant house.

Park McIntyre sent his son Wally a four pound cake of maple sugar by mail last week. They don't raise it in California.

Monday the Cummings brought four hundred and fifty-seven bags of seed peas to be sowed by the farmers holding contracts from N. B. Kerney & sons, of Leroy, N. Y.

A very pleasant surprise party was gotten up for last Tuesday evening in honor of Mrs. Whitman's 57th birthday. A very enjoyable time was had. They were serenaded by the band.

At the school meeting Monday night it was decided to have a building 28x44, two rooms, built of wood, and lined between the studding with brick, and to be built on the present site. Proposals for the building will at once be advertised and let to the lowest bidder.

I have been very much interested.

in the articles that have ap-paper regarding the early struggles of the pioneer inhabitants in building up their town and section.

The first settlers, in most cases, pass the way and endure all the

The men who first start a business

I cannot see any justice in that Neither do I see the justice in the three months man, who never

The Secretary of State has received a "bundle of gibes and comes and goes" from the State Department, and has been known as the "globe trotter or globe traveler." The what is of it? The "globe trotter or globe traveler" is well known, while the "globe traveler" is well known, and of very high quality. The specimens of timidity that was sent on the "globe traveler" is well known.

I change my credit to a cash business. My reason for so doing is that a strictly cash business is better for everyone. This year in my small business it will cost over $1,000 to keep books and collect accounts, and if bad debts and interest on long accounts were counted in, it would cost over $1,500, if no $2,000. Why do cash customers pay for bad debts long accounts and cost of looking after them? As an inducement for cash or produce trade, I will give my customers the cost of looking after credit accounts in the following low prices.
1 lb. Fish's No. 1 Soda, 6 c. My No. 1 Tea by lb., 40 c.

Geo. F. Berdan was in town last week.

The supervisors elected Geo. W. Halsey Superintendent of the Poor to succeed Mr. Thell. They also changed the provision relative to Township poor. Townships must now expend a mill on the dollar before the poor become county charges.

Marriage licenses for the week: Chas. W. Lewandzky, of East Jordan, to Ada Newton, of Charlevoix.

THE CAT SAVED THE TRAIN.

How it was done, as related by the Young Engineer.

As the train was about to pull out of the Broad street station I recognized an old friend in the crowd, my old Philadelphia friend, the cat. He was sitting on the ground, looking up at me with a look of intense interest. I went over to him and he told me that he had just saved the train. He said that he had seen the engine starting to move and he had run up to the front of it. He had seen the engineer looking at his watch and he had seen the fireman looking at the water gauge. He had seen the conductor looking at the passengers and he had seen the porter looking at the baggage. He had seen the train starting to move and he had seen the cat running up to the front of it. He had seen the cat jumping on the engine and he had seen the cat running up to the front of it. He had seen the cat jumping on the engine and he had seen the cat running up to the front of it.

The schooner Florence M. Smith is at Harbor Springs after five car loads of kerosene oil, consigned to this port and East Jordan.

Two schooners are loading lumber up the lake—the last one, Sunday, having laid her cargo at Milwaukee. The rest of the cargo is to be shipped to the lumbermen at Milwaukee.

The schooner City of Charlevoix left here Sunday for Chicago. The Lawrence is at this end of the river. It is quite likely that both schooners will make another trip if the weather is in any degree favorable.

Capt. Wm. Tuley, of the schooner, received a letter from his wife, who is at Milwaukee. She is well and hopes to see him soon.

The schooner Fenia, this winter, will receive a new deck, 8 new staves of plank, new big staves inside, part new lining, and some new timbers and deck frames.

CHARLEVOIX, MICH. DECEMBER 17, 1930.

Hayes from Hayes.
Mabel Long has moved from Bay into Hayes. Mr. Long was a customer of our town some years ago.

George Samsby has purchased a four-horse power feed mill and proposes to grind his own feed hereafter.

The John Mossman affair, that the papers report as a blood-draw and blood-and-thunder affair, occurred in Hayes where most of the funny things happen.

On Thursday, the 15th, the farmers held a meeting at Horton's for the purpose of organizing a joint stock selling company. Horton's Creek has been surveyed and found to be able to furnish abundant water-power, and the plan is to build a dam at Horton's Bay. It will take some money.

The town land agents at the township clerk's office met Monday for the purpose of auditing accounts.

There is a great deal of talk these days among agriculturists in regard to the best sugar industry. This country can equal any other in the amount of sugar beets raised. The sugar beet raised here is rich enough in saccharine matter to justify its cultivation. If so, there is money in it. With a railroad, a sugar factory, and other manufacturing interests, the farmers in this region would be well off.

Last Sunday was a beautiful day, and the quiet condition of the bay with two or three steamers plying up and down, caused us to imagine we were in the midst of summer. The weather was just what we needed. A. N. Hanson has been improving his premises by building a barn and digging a well.

The Charlevoix light is still in operation.

Fish traps still keep busy, but the fish are coming in to the mill yard. "Cute time" says it's going to keep up.

Wm. Wilson has bought a horse and gone into the live business.

A. B. Meach is working at the Atwood mill for the winter.

Nick Shores and wife went to the turkey Tuesday on business connected with his pension claim.

The Ladies Aid Society met with Mrs. E. H. Horton this week.

There will be a mass here early in the spring from the lake for natural gas. We hope "fossil" won't say anything about "surface" indications.

The Township Treasurer will be at the office on Monday, Dec. 21, for the collection of taxes.

The band and teacher are taking a rest this month. We think a good old-fashioned "killing" party would be just the thing to get things going for the winter.

Lynn Wood, who has been teaching at Horton City, leaves for home, Waukon, Wis., next Tuesday.

The Lawrence stopped Tuesday night and found shingles and last blocks.

From Horton.
Mrs. J. G. Hilday has returned from Horton City.

Last Friday evening a New Englander and a New Yorker were at the Horton. The Horton is a fine place for a winter home.

Married, at Horton, Dec. 15th, Rev. O. S. Horton to Miss Ida H. Horton, both of Horton. Their many friends here wish them a long life of happiness.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Gibson Sunday at Horton with his parents in Horton.

Mr. J. H. Meach has his live rig ready for winter in line style.

Mr. W. H. Hanson has a fine stock of Christmas goods.

Don't forget, Mrs. John Cook, Sr. Funeral services at their home, Thursday, at 8 a. m., the remains to be interred in Horton cemetery.

The diesel leaves a husband and six children to mourn her loss.

The meetings have closed at the B. church, with an addition of new members.

The people of Horton gave Elder Horton and wife a reception at Mr. P. L. Lott's last Saturday evening.

Deaths from Hay.

Morel Long has moved from Hay into Hayes. Mr. Long was a citizen of our town some years ago.

Several of our farmers are furnishing fine kiln wood to the Pottery Line Co. at Rocky Beach after Triple Rock kiln kiln.

George Sannix has purchased a four-horse power Ford and proposes to build his own "horseter."

The John A. Messman affair, that the papers report as a Sioux dance and blood and thunder affair, occurred in Hayes where most of the funny things happen.

(15 Thursday, the 18th, the farmers hold a meeting at Horton's Bay for the purpose of organizing a joint stock milling company. Horton's Creek has been surveyed and found to be able to furnish abundant water power, and the plan is to build a mill at Horton's Bay. It will take some money.

The town board met at the town clerk's office on Monday for the purpose of auditing accounts.

There is a great deal of talk these days among agriculturists in regard to the best sugar industry. This country can equal any other in the amount of sugar, sorghum, and common crops to the acre. All we want to know is, if the sugar best raised here is rich enough in saccharine matter to justify its cultivation. If so, there is money in it. With a railroad, a sugar factory, and other manufacturing interests, the farmers in this region would be well off.

Last Sunday was a beautiful day, and the quiet condition of the bay with two or three steamers plying up on it, caused us to imagine we were in the midst of summer navigation, basking the same covered deck.

A. S. Norman has been improving his premises by building a barn and digging a well.

News Notes.

The Catholic still in operation.

The first thing that has been done here is to build a well.

"Isle Gene" says it's going to break up.

Wm. Wilson has bought a horse and gone into the live stock business.

A. H. Meach is sailing at the Atwood mill for the winter.

Nick Shores and wife went to the Turkey Tuesday on business connected with his position.

The Ladies Aid Society met with Mrs. E. H. Harris this week.

There will be a song here early in the spring from this to help for the year. We hope "inwood" won't say anything about "surface indications."

The Township Treasurer will be at Guyton's and Nash store all day Friday, the 20th of December, for the collection of taxes.

The band and teacher are taking a rest this month. Watch out for some heavy prices from them next month.

In a social way it's very dull here just now. We think a good old-fashioned "steeple" party would be just the thing to set things going for the winter.

Lynn Wood, who has been teaching at Austin City, Texas for some time, will be here next Tuesday.

The Lawrence stepped Tuesday night and loaded shingles and last loads.

From Clinton.

Mrs. J. G. Hilday has returned from Traverse City.

Last Friday evening a New England party at the Bar Lake House for Rev. Arnold. Proceeds, $10.50.

Married, at Pottery, Dec. 5th, Rev. O. S. Horton to Miss Ida Huse, both of Charlot.

Several friends here wish them a long life of happy use.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Gibson Sunday with their parents in Pottery.

Mr. J. H. Menzies has his liver ready for winter in fine style.

Mr. W. H. Hanson has a fine stock of Christmas goods.

Dist. Dec. 6th, Mrs. John Gokker, St. Paul, service at their home Tuesday, at 8 p. m., the remains to be interred in Pottery cemetery.

The deceased leaves a husband and six children to mourn her loss.

The meetings have closed at the B. church, with an addition of 17 members.

The people of Charlot gave John Horton and wife a wedding at Mr. Lord's last Saturday evening.

A elegant stock of books and booklets, for the holiday trade, just opened at McCarty & Co's.
